

As the Labour leadership campaign gathers pace...

BACK CORBYN: BUILD FIGHT AGAINST TORIES

Jeremy Corbyn has spoken to thousands of people at rallies across Britain in his campaign to remain as Labour leader.

The Labour right claim Corbyn is unelectable, yet thousands are at his meetings night after night and tens of thousands have joined the Labour Party.

Instead of uniting to take on the Tories most Labour MPs want to kick Corbyn out as leader. His opponent

Owen Smith wants to turn the clock back to the days when Labour under Tony Blair and Gordon Brown loved up to big business and took us to war in Iraq.

We back Jeremy Corbyn in his fight to be re-elected as Labour leader and defend his anti-austerity policies. But we can't wait until the 2020 general election to fightback.

With Theresa May as Tory leader the Tories will continue to attack working class people and to use racism to divide us.

We need to build a mass movement of strikes and protests against Tory austerity now.

We support the "Unwelcome the Tories" demo called by the People's Assembly at the Tory Party conference in Birmingham on Sunday 2 October.

We back the Stand up to Racism conference on Saturday 8 October.
