Defend Corbyn

Freedom for Palestine, No to antisemitism

THE ATTACKS on Jeremy Corbyn over claims that he has encouraged antisemitism in the Labour Party are a concerted attempt to undermine his leadership and weaken support for Palestinian rights.

The attack is led by the Tories and by the right inside the Labour Party, many of whom have encouraged open racism towards Muslims, migrants and refugees and fed the growth of Islamophobia.

Antisemitism is a serious issue. It is pushed overwhelmingly by the far right and fascists.

But support for the Palestinians and criticism of the Israeli state is not antisemitism. Many millions of Jewish people here and around the world, are openly critical of the Israeli state and have played a leading role in the fight for Palestinian rights and against racism.

The dangerous growth of the far-right, across Europe and in the US, are a warning to us all of the need for unity in the fight against racism Fighting antisemitism today means building campaigns that unite Muslims, Jews and others against all forms of racism. The attacks on Corbyn aim to undermine his leadership and to divide those who are fighting against antisemitism and all forms of racism.

We oppose these attacks and defend Corbyn and his record on fighting antisemitism, racism and for freedom for the Palestinian people.
